DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 7/8/2005 has been entered.

Allowable Subject Matter

2. The indicated allowability of claims 1-34 is withdrawn in view of the newly discovered reference(s) to Albal et al. (hereafter Albal), US 2003/0147518 A1. Rejections based on the newly cited reference(s) follow.

3. Claims 1-34 are presented for examination.

Claim Objections

4. Claims 4, 14, 20 and 30 are objected to because of the following informalities.

Abbreviations, symbols, acronyms, functional designations, letter combination, code names, nicknames mnemonic devices, project names, alphabetical contractions and general slang (i.e., LDAP) must be positively defined and identified in the claims.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 102(e) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

6. Claims 1, 2, 5, 9-13, 15, 18-19, 22, 26, 26- 29, 31 and 34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Albal et al. (hereafter Albal), US 2003/0147518 A1. As to claim 1, Albal discloses a method for playing a messaging prompt of a called party to a calling party, the method comprising:

receiving calling party number information specifying a calling party (see abstract, fig.2, [0022] to [0023]);

accessing stored calling party number information from an Internet Protocol (IP) based database server (using Communication node 56 fig.2) configured for storing calling party number information (see [0025] to [0028]);

comparing the received calling party number information to the stored calling party number information to determine if there is a match between the received calling party information number and the stored calling party number information (verifying the caller's number, see fig.4, [0029] to [0030]);

based on a determined match, retrieving a personalized voice message of the called party (caller) corresponding to the matched, stored calling party number information, for playback the message prompt to the calling party (automatically identifying the user and providing a personal greetings to the user, see [0040] and [0046] to [0050]).

As to claim 2, Albal discloses the received and stored calling party number information each includes at least a portion of a telephone number of the calling party (see [0036] to [0040] and [0074]).

As to claim 5, Albal discloses retrieving the stored personalized voice message from the IP based database server (see [0077] to [0081]).

As to claims 9 and 10, Albal discloses corresponding a flag to certain of the stored calling party number information, the flag indicating a calling feature defined by a called party for use by the calling party one of a paging operation and a single number reach operation (see fig.9, [0041] to [0046] and [0048]).

As to claim 11, Albal discloses receiving a dialed number identification string (DNIS), and wherein the accessing step includes accessing a subscribers' profile based on the DNIS, the subscriber's profile including the stored calling party number information and the corresponding personalized voice message (see [0050] to [0056] and [0069] to [0073]).

As to claim 12, Albal discloses a messaging system for playing a message of a called party to a calling party in response to a request for execution of a messaging operation, the request containing calling party number information, the messaging system including: an application runtime environment configured for retrieving, for playback the messaging prompt as the messaging prompt to the calling party (see fig.2, abstract, (see [0025] to [0028]), a personalized voice message based on a match of the received calling party number information with calling party number information stored in an Internet Protocol (IP) based database server (verifying the caller's number, see fig.4, [0029] to [0030]), the personalized voice message corresponding to the matched and stored calling number information of the calling party (automatically identifying the user and providing a personal greetings to the user, see [0040] and [0046] to [0050]).

Claims 13 and 15 are rejected for the same reasons set forth in claims 11 and 3 respectively.

Claims 18, 19, 22, 26-28 are rejected for the same reasons set forth in claims 1, 2, 5, 9-11 respectively.

Claims 29, 31 and 34 are rejected for the same reasons set forth in claims 12, 15 and 13 respectively.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

7. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

8. Claims 4, 14, 20 and 30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Albal in view of Ng et al., US pat. No.6,243,376.

Albal's teachings still applied as in item 6 above. Albal does not specifically disclose using accessing message using LDAP protocol. However, LDAP protocol is generally well known in network standards art as disclosed by Ng (see abstract, col.7 lines 20-64). It would have obvious to one of the ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to utilize LDAP protocol in the computer system of Albal to process calling information because it would have provided a standard way for Internet clients or applications and servers to access directories services and locate organizations, organization units or individuals (see Ng's col.7 lines 39-47).

9. Claims 3, 6-8, 16, 17, 21, 23-25, 32 and 33 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Albal and Ng as in item 7 above and further in view of Bobo, II, US pat. No.5,870,549.

Claims 3 and 6-8 are rejected for the same reasons set forth in item 7 above. Neither Albal nor Ng specifically discloses receiving an HTTP request from the calling party, generating an HTML page having XML tags and inserting a first media tag including a .wav file and a second media tag configured for controlling playing of the .wav file. However, Bobo discloses receiving an HTTP request from the calling party, generating an HTML page having XML tags and inserting a first media tag including a .wav file and a second media tag configured for controlling playing of the .wav file (see abstract, figs.1, 2, col.7 line 28 to col.8 line 46 and col.13 line 13 to col.14 line 55). It would have been obvious to one of the ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to implement Bobo's teachings into the computer system of Albal for generating and executing web applications because it would have enabled users to deploy a scalable, open standards based form approval system on an open standards based Internet Protocol network using a telephone.

Claims 16 and 17 are rejected for the same reasons set forth in claims 7 and 8 respectively.

Claims 21, 23-25 are rejected for the same reasons set forth in claims 3, 6- 8 respectively.

Claims 32 and 33 are rejected for the same reasons set forth in claims 16 and 17 respectively.

Response to Arguments

10. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-34 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

11. Claims 1-34 are rejected.
